AMBASSADOR'S MESSAGE

It is with great pleasure that I extend a warm welcome to Borsa Vini 2023, a prestigious event orchestrated by the Italian Trade Agency in collaboration with the Italian Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation. This occasion marks the fourth edition of a celebration that epitomizes the union of Italian excellence in winemaking with the discerning tastes of the Singaporean wine market.

This one-day event will bring together 21 Italian wineries with local and ASEAN wine operators, fostering new business connections through B2B meetings that will significantly expand commercial opportunities for Italian companies, further strengthening our presence in the Southeast Asia's wine market.

In an exciting addition to this year's program, we are delighted to present "A Speed-Tasting Journey Through Italian Native Grapes", a captivating Masterclass guided by local sommelier Jessica Anne Tan from SingaPoured.com. It is an immersive exploration of the secrets, history, traditions, and cultural significance of Italy's indigenous grapes, offering a unique window into the world of Italian wines.

Italy's rich viticultural heritage and the growing demand for our wines in the Singaporean market testify to the quality and authenticity of our products. In 2022, Italy's wine exports reached

Dante Brandi

Ambassador of Italy to Singapore and Brunei

2.1 million liters worth 7.8 billion euros worldwide, marking a 9.8% increase in value. The export of Italian wine to Singapore saw impressive growth in 2022, with 2.4 million liters worth 24.6 million euros, representing an 11% volume increase and a 20.7% value surge from 2021. Notably, Italy remained Singapore's 2nd European supplier in early 2023, with 9.5 million euros in exports, marking a 1.2% increase compared to the same period in 2022.

As we gather at Borsa Vini 2023, I am confident that this event will not only further strengthen our enduring partnership with Singapore and the ASEAN region but also deepen the appreciation for Italian wines among enthusiasts in Singapore and beyond.

Right in the center of Tuscany, we produce two Red Wines and two Classic Methods. We can be categorized as “natural,” but our natural approach is not an end, but rather a means that allows us to obtain unique and irreplicable wines. We have an innovative approach to production that transforms the winemaker into an artist and enables the grapes to express themselves freely and fully. Our bottles convey the very essence of the plant that generated the grapes, down to its deepest essence.

Santa Sofia headquarters and cellars are in Pedemonte (Verona), one of the most beautiful and attractive zones in the Classic Valpolicella area. Villa Santa Sofia was built by the famous architect Andrea Palladio in 1560 and since 1996 has been included among UNESCO's World Heritage Sites.

Already in the mid-800, the company was known for the excellent quality of its wines. The wines are produced from grapes carefully selected coming from the most suited and best exposed hillsides in the surrounding area. But the wine tradition of the place has more ancient origins: part of the old cellars was already used for the ageing of wine in the 14th and 15th centuries.

Over the years, Santa Sofia has built up and maintained a reputation which has seen it increase successfully from a "small estate with high quality" to a company which has become one of the most significant realities in the Veronese winemaking world, pursuing a "strategy of excellence" – as Giancarlo likes to call it. Focused on the tradition and on the importance of maintaining wines with a very easy-drinking style, he applies itself also in the selection of wines from other Verona areas.

All that allowed Santa Sofia to position their wines in more than 50 countries around the world. The company has recently bought a new vineyard in Briago, Valpantena, reaching the goal of a 53 hectares propriety. Today the Begnoni family lives enthusiastically their role as witnesses and guardians of this great wine tradition.

Zerbosco is located in Montù Beccaria, Oltrepò Pavese. Is a family boutique winery, fine quality oriented. Our mission is to produce wines that are distinguishable and represent the maximum expression of a single vineyard. The power, finesse and elegance of our wines are rooted in the hillside vineyards, in sandy and limestone soils at an altitude of 300 meters, with different exposures and microclimates. Great wines are always born in particularly suitable territories. We focus on sustainable agriculture based on nature and vines respect. The goal is to produce wines that are the maximum expression of the vineyard they originate from.

The varieties of grapes cultivated are Pinot noir, Barbera, Croatina, Malvasia and Riesling.
